

In June 2016, AmCham launched its "Companies Giving Back" database via its site to gather and publish details on company donations/CSR programs/volunteer efforts and similar. What value would you say this database has for your organization or you personal

% of 55 respondents

How often does your organization contribute content (e.g., success stories, expert articles) to AmCham communications?

% of 60 respondents

What value would you give the content of our communications overall?

% of 60 respondents

What topics would you like to see AmCham cover in the future communications?

- HR and labor market
- CSR
- IT Security Services
- Sales and collaboration opportunities with companies from U.S.
- Finance Market News and Venture capital (VC) funding
- Marketing best practices and real world examples
- News on the Real Estate Market in Macedonia
- Members activities and networking
- Media, Trends, TV scene, Event industry..

What value does our website have for your organization or you personally?

% of 59 respondents

What value does AmCham Magazine have for your organization or you personally?

% of 60 respondents

What value does our Facebook profile have for your organization or you personally?

% of 56 respondents

What value does our LinkedIn profile have for your organization or you personally?

% of 58 respondents